PRAY FOR OTHERS

KISA KIDS PUBLICATIONS

Under the Guidance of Moulana Nabi R. Mir (Abidi)

Little Hasan (a) lay quietly in bed. His mother, Sayyidah Fatimah (a) had just tucked him and his brother into bed. But little Hasan's (a) mind was busy with so many questions. His mother used to pray so much during the night.

Who did she pray for? What kinds of du'as did she make? What time did she go to sleep?

After tossing and turning for a while, little Hasan (a) couldn't sleep. So, he got up to see what his mother was doing. He watched Sayyidah Fatimah (a) do wudhu. Then, she put on some perfume. Next, she laid out her prayer rug. She prayed on it every night.

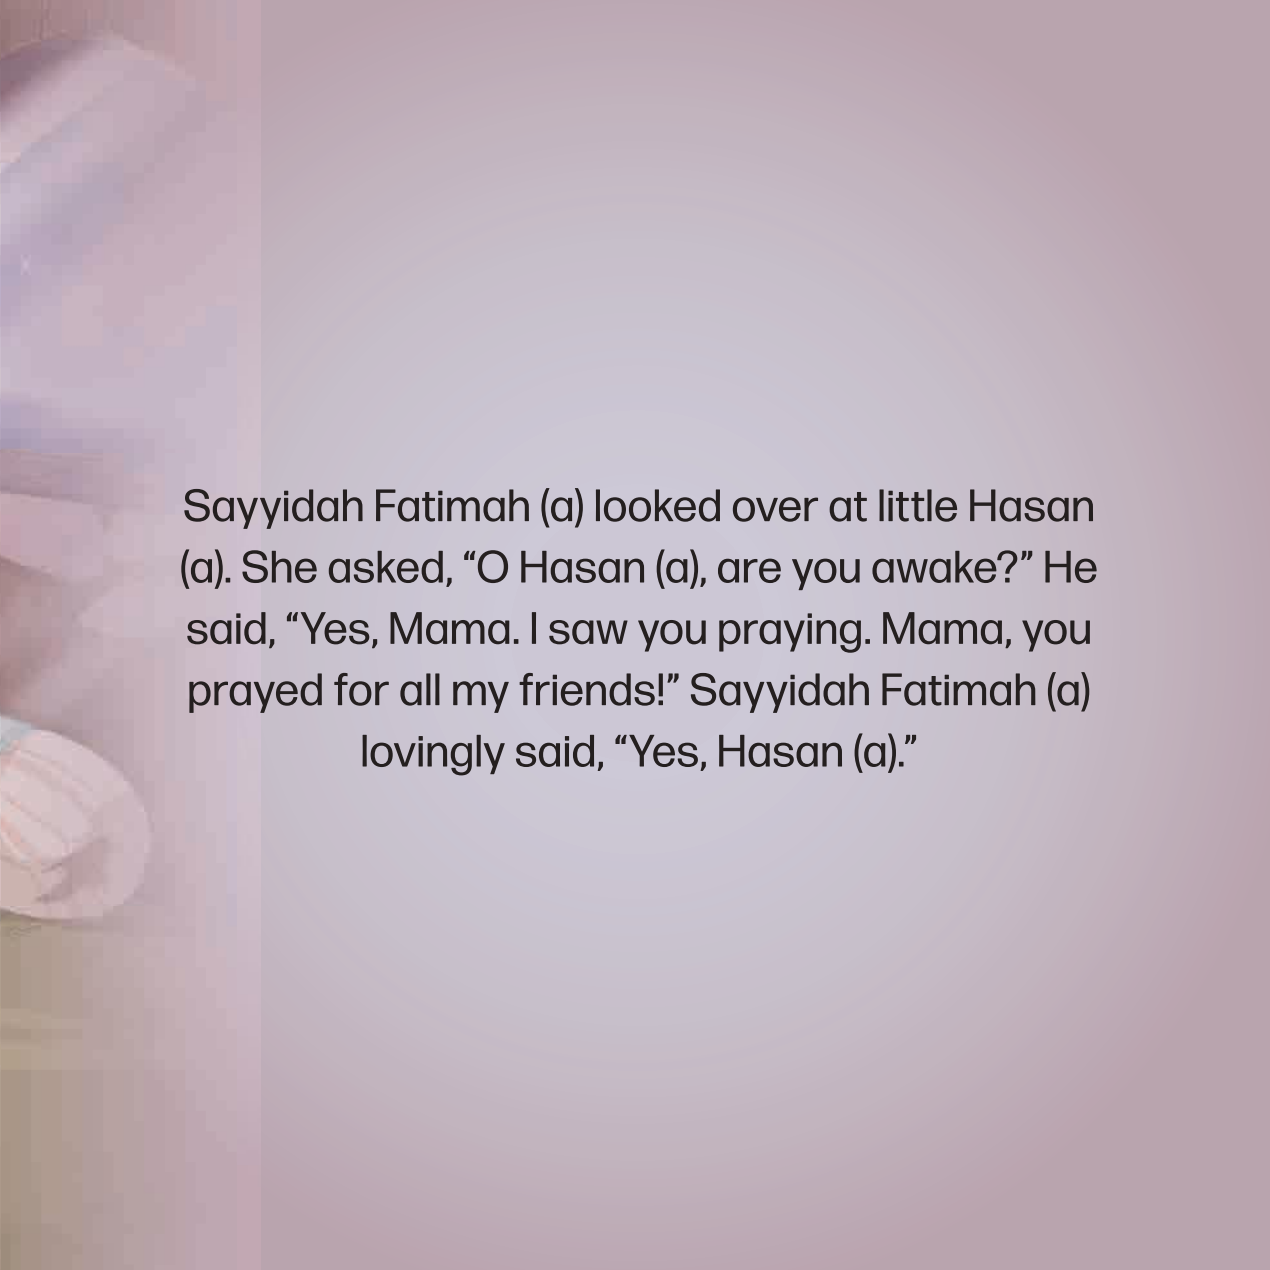

She took out her special tasbeeh and started saying, “Allahu Akbar, Alhamdulillah, SubhaanAllah.”

The whole house was quiet. Little Hasan (a) could only hear her beautiful du’as. Little Hasan (a) stared lovingly at his mother. She looked tired, but she loved talking to Allah!

Hasan (a) decided to lie down for a while, but he still couldn't sleep. So, he got back up to see who his mother was praying for. Sayyidah Fatimah (a) was praying for everyone! She prayed for little Hasan's (a) friends and neighbors. She stayed up all night praying to Allah. He said, "SubhaanAllah. Mama stayed up all night!"

Sayyidah Fatimah (a) looked over at little Hasan (a). She asked, “O Hasan (a), are you awake?” He said, “Yes, Mama. I saw you praying. Mama, you prayed for all my friends!” Sayyidah Fatimah (a) lovingly said, “Yes, Hasan (a).”

She asked him to come sit on her lap and then said, “We should pray for everyone, especially our family, friends, and neighbors. Allah loves it when we pray for others. When we pray for them, Allah and the angels pray for us.”

By watching his mother pray that night, little Hasan (a) learned that Allah loves it when we talk to Him and pray for others. So, we should always pray for our family, friends, and neighbors.

PRAY FOR OTHERS

Little Imam Hasan (a) could not sleep because he had so many questions running through his mind. Alhumdulillah, by the end of the night, he had all his answers. He found out all about his mother's night time du'as!
